Dear Sirs,

As a concerned citizen and business owner in Plumas County, I wish to express my concern about the CalFed process.

Two important areas need to be considered in any plan that seeks to address California's water problems.

First, our surface and ground-water right must be protected, as must our county point-of-origin rights.

Second, we must have additional water storage capacity before any plan for a through-delta conveyance structure is implemented, or even considered.

I am a contractor serving both Plumas and Sierra Counties, and my livelihood is dependent on having an overall strong economy. Both counties' economies are heavily dependent on agriculture, and the needs of the farmers and ranchers in this area must be placed above those of the people in Los Angeles.

Sincerely,

Robert R. Jeskey
